OVERVIEW

EXPERIENCE

Emily Zung Manninger is an attorney at Hunt Ortmann Palffy Nieves Darling & Mah, Inc. Her practice encompasses both counseling and litigation in the areas of construction law, employee benefits, and labor and employment law. Ms. Manninger has extensive litigation experience; she successfully represents clients in state and federal court at the trial and appellate levels, and routinely resolves complex disputes through mediation and arbitration. She also counsels public and private employers with their day-to-day management concerns. Before joining Hunt Ortmann, Ms. Manninger was an attorney in the Pasadena, California office of a law firm known for representing large multi-employer trust funds and public entities, where she handled ERISA litigation concerning payment and allocation of fringe benefit contributions, fiduciary issues, health and welfare plan issues, and benefit disputes. Ms. Manninger received her Juris Doctor degree from Loyola Law School, Los Angeles, and earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Literatures in English from the University of California, San Diego, with minors in Economics and Literatures in Spanish. She is licensed to practice law in California in all state courts, and in the Central, Southern, and Eastern Districts of the United States District Court. She is also licensed to practice law in Nevada. Ms. Manninger is a member of the Women Lawyers Association of Los Angeles; the Los Angeles County Bar Association; the Pasadena Bar Association; the University of California, San Diego Alumni Association; and the Loyola Law School, Los Angeles Alumni Association.
